

September 30, 2017

To our Members:

It is my pleasure to introduce to the DPS Federal Credit Union Membership Mr. Chris Sherman.

Some of you already know and for those who have yet not heard, I am retiring as CEO of the Department of Public Safety Federal Credit Union; and Chris Sherman will be succeeding me as CEO effective January 1, 2018. This is a bitter/sweet time for me, but I leave knowing that we have found in Chris the very best leader to help the credit union navigate this ever-changing financial world we live in. In addition, I am lucky, along with my staff at the credit union, to have served you during this very interesting economic time. I am confident that Chris and the staff will continue to seamlessly deliver for you.

Chris is uniquely qualified to lead the credit union. His knowledge of the financial industry and DPS, along with his exceptional leadership skills, strong relationships with our talented staff, and his role as a DPS and State employee make him the ideal leader for our credit union. I know his leadership will serve you well.

It has been an honor for me to be a part of the DPS family for nearly 34 years working for DPS and an additional 12 + years with the DPS Federal Credit Union. It truly has been an honor serving you. I have said countless times that our employees and members are a family; and we work every day to earn the members trust and respect. The idea of employees and members working together to provide a product mutually beneficial has proven to be so powerful and rewarding. I have enjoyed the friendships I have developed and will miss working for and with you.

As I move on to the next exciting phase of my life, I want to thank you for the opportunity I have had to know and work with all of you. It truly has been my pleasure. I will miss you all very much; but hopefully, I will be seeing you at the credit union's annual meetings for years to come.

Again, thank you.

BARBARA RAY